Dear Complaint Officer,

PPS Number: [REDACTED]

I am writing to formally demand urgent action regarding the repeated refusal of the Legal Aid Board to provide me with legal assistance, despite the severity of my circumstances.

I met with a solicitor at your office and disclosed the childhood sexual abuse I suffered, the trauma of adoption, and the failure of my father to support me when he became aware. I was explicitly told I had a massive case worthy of your support.

Yet, only five days later, I received a letter stating there was a lack of evidence and that no assistance would be provided.

Subsequently, after being assaulted by a registered paedophile in Maguire House — an assault caught on CCTV and currently under Garda prosecution — I sought your help again. Despite this, your office again refused to provide support.

To compound matters, I have now discovered that a registered sex offender recently lived in my current residence without my knowledge, creating an unsafe and intolerable living environment.

This pattern of neglect and refusal is unacceptable. I demand the Legal Aid Board immediately reconsiders my case, provides the necessary legal assistance, and supports me in pursuing justice and safety.

Failure to act will leave me no choice but to escalate this matter publicly and through non-violent civil disobedience to bring attention to the systemic failure to protect vulnerable survivors.

I expect a prompt and meaningful response.

Yours sincerely,
Steven Condra

Dear Mr Condra,

Thank you for your email. We regret to hear that you are unhappy with the service you are receiving.

I acknowledge receipt of same, received on the 20th of June 2025. I would be much obliged if you could send us the reference number of the case you are referring to. This is to allow me to identify your case so matters can be, if necessary, investigated further. This reference number is commonly found in the top right corner of correspondence/letters the Legal Aid Board or on a legal aid certificate.

To help us process your complaint, I would be much obliged if you could please fill in the attached complaints form and return it back to us within 5 days. You can return the completed complaints form either via email or by post. Once we receive the filled in complaint form your complaint will be forwarded to the relevant decision maker

Please find attached a copy of our information leaflet regarding our Customer Care and Complaints Procedure for your information.

Kind Regards
Christopher Flynn
